

Remote Learning Choice Board

Try to make a different tic tac toe each day!

Directions: For self-directed remote learning, choose any 3 of the squares on a given day to complete so that your choices make a tic tac toe. For each square, first do any tasks your teacher has assigned for that subject; however, if you have none, try the activities in the square for that subject, or make up your own activity.

LEARNING FUN  Practice a set of flashcards on Quizlet with someone else in person or on video chat. Play a trivia game on Kahoot. Practice foreign language with Duolingo. Use your Amazon Alexa to do learning activities with Bamboo. Or check out the Circle Round podcast.	MATH  Check out the math lessons and activities from Khan Academy Kids & Zearn. Have fun putting your math knowledge to use with MathGames. There are also a wealth of printable and online activities available on the AllKidsNetwork.	PHYS ED  Make sure you keep moving during the day. Besides getting outside to play, you can try a GoNoodle video, use the Fitbod app to learn different workouts that fit your equipment and needs, or try the 7-Minute Workout Skill on Alexa.
 SOCIAL STUDIES Clean up a freshwater oil spill, learn about invasive fish species, or find out how the Great Lakes formed from glaciers! Take a virtual field trip around the Great Lakes and explore science, recreation, economics, and other topics dealing with the lakes via all the educational resources from Great Lakes Now.	 SCIENCE Join authors for STEM Storytime! Hear a book read aloud and complete the STEM challenge with the book. Post a video of you completing the challenge and see what others create as well. Check out many virtual experiments from PhET, watch the Cincinnati Zoo livestream, or check out the movie and activities from Inventing Tomorrow.	 READING Choose a book or eBook to read to an adult, with a sibling, or online with a friend over video chat. Find a chapter book to read on your own, or have an adult read to you—one chapter a day. If reading with someone isn't an option, try choosing a book for you and someone else to read, then schedule a video chat to discuss each chapter.
ART  Try one of the many craft ideas from AllKidsNetwork, create a digital graphic using Canva, color one of the illustrations from a Circle Round story, create a digital story on Wideo, or check out a daily art project from Mini Picassos on Facebook Live each day.	WRITING  Come up with daily writing prompts to do in your family. If you need ideas you can try one of these prompts each day to get you started from ThinkWritten. You can also join the WriteAbout online writing community to join in digital writing.	MUSIC  Sing, have a dance party, or practice songs on your own instrument. Take a music lesson online with Joe Vercellino. Make music online with Soundtrap, LoopLabs, or using the Chrome Music Lab. Team up to create a band online with friends at JamKazam.
